SECTION II – PURPOSE OF THE RFP

1. INTENT

Arizona State University (ASU) seeks to contract with mental health agencies or providers to deliver one of two versions of the New Beginnings Program, a skills-based program for parents who are divorcing/separating. Two or more providers are sought in each of the following counties: Maricopa, Pima, Yavapai, Yuma and Coconino.

The University may choose to enter into multiple contracts under this solicitation. During the course of the Agreement(s) resulting from this solicitation, the University, at its sole discretion, may add additional individuals or firms, provided that they meet the stated requirements of this Request for Proposal.

The University desires to place orders with the successful firm(s) under this solicitation via any electronic methods of ordering offered by the successful firm(s), and to make payment for these orders with a Visa Card.

2. BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Overview

The New Beginnings Program in Arizona is funded by a grant from the National Institute of Drug Abuse. This grant funds the delivery of a program that helps both mothers and fathers improve outcomes for children following their parents' divorce. This five-year project involves collaboration between family courts and community-based service providers in five counties in Arizona and the New Beginnings Program research team at Arizona State University. The project will evaluate those who use the program, the effects of the program on parenting behavior and children's mental health problems, how court-related professionals make use of the program by referring parents to it and the effectiveness of our training model to train providers to deliver the program with quality and fidelity so that families benefit from participation. As part of this project the New Beginnings team will intensively train community service providers to deliver the program with a high degree of fidelity and quality, so that the capacity to deliver the program will remain in the community after the grant has ended.

The project will evaluate two versions of the New Beginnings Program for both a 2-week and a 10-week version. Because of our federal funding, there is no charge to parents for participation. Parents who meet eligibility criteria will be randomly assigned to the one of the two versions of the program. Parents and their children will complete three interviews about their experiences in the program, their parenting and the children's behavior. Parents and children will be paid for these interviews.

Research on the effects of the New Beginnings Program

The New Beginnings Program was selected for this project because of strong research evidence from randomized trials that it improves a wide range of positive outcomes for children up to 15 years after participation. This research has been published in major scientific journals, such as the Journal of the American Medical Association, as well as court-related journals, such as the Family Court Review. Compared to youth in the control group, six year after the program those whose parents participated in the New Beginnings Program

- had a 37% lower rate of diagnosed mental disorder
- used alcohol, marijuana and other drugs less frequently
- engaged in less high-risk sexual behavior
- had higher self-esteem
- got better grades -- 35% more of the adolescents whose parents participated in the program had an A or B average

The research found that these benefits were due to the program's effect to improve the quality of parenting following divorce, particularly the level of parental warmth and the use of effective discipline.

Where and when will the New Beginnings Program be offered?

The program will be delivered in five counties: Maricopa, Pima, Yavapai, Yuma and Coconino. The program will be delivered starting in the fall of 2012 and again in spring and fall of 2013 and 2014. Please note that the initial starting date for each county may be different, and will depend on the number of families recruited.

Who will deliver the New Beginnings Program in the community?

The ASU Research Team will contract with agencies/providers in the five counties to deliver both the two session and ten session versions of the program. The providers will be trained, supervised and certified to deliver the program by the ASU Research Team.

3. TERM OF CONTRACT

The initial term will be a two (2) year period with the possibility of each successive one (1) year extension, for a total possible term of three (3) years. The contract will be available for use by other University departments during this time period.

SECTION III – PRE-PROPOSAL CONFERENCE

No pre-proposal conference will be held.

A pre-proposal conference will be held at time and date in location .

The purpose of this conference will be to clarify the contents of this Request for Proposal in order to prevent any misunderstanding of the University's intention and desires, and/or to give prospective suppliers an opportunity to review the site of the work. Any doubt as to the requirements of this Request for Proposal, or any apparent omission or discrepancy should be presented to the University representative at this conference. The University representative will then determine the appropriate action. If necessary, the University representative will issue a written amendment to the Request for Proposal. Oral statements or instructions shall not constitute an amendment to this Request for Proposal.

You do not have to send a representative to this pre-proposal conference. However, if you decide to not send a representative, then we may not know of your intent to participate in this solicitation, and so may not send you any written amendments to this Request for Proposal. Further, we will assume that your failure to attend the pre-proposal conference is an indication that you expect us to review your proposal as if you had taken advantage of the pre-proposal conference.

virus attacks, unauthorized access or modifications, and threats and vulnerabilities).

29. The University believes that it can best maintain its reputation for treating suppliers in a fair, honest, and consistent manner by conducting solicitations in good faith and by granting competitors an equal opportunity to win an award. If you feel that we have fallen short of these goals, you may submit a protest pursuant to the Arizona Board of Regents procurement procedures, section 3-809, in particular section 3-809C. This paragraph does not include all of the provisions of the Regents procedures, but it does tell you what you have to do to initiate a protest. First, you have to be an "interested party." An "interested party" is an actual or prospective proposer whose direct economic interest may be affected by the issuance of a solicitation, the award of a contract, or by the failure to award a contract. Whether an actual prospective bidder or offeror has a direct economic interest will depend upon the circumstances in each case. At a minimum, the interest must be substantial and must be tangibly affected by the administrative action or proposed action concerned in the case. For instance, a bidder or proposer who is fourth in line for award does not have a sufficient economic interest to protest the proposed award of a contract to the low bidder. Second, you must submit the protest in a timely manner. In procurements inviting bids, protests based upon alleged errors, irregularities or, improprieties in a solicitation that are apparent before the bid opening shall be filed before the bid opening. In procurements requesting proposals, protests based upon alleged errors, irregularities or improprieties in a solicitation that are apparent before the closing date for receipt of initial proposals shall be filed before the closing date for receipt of initial proposals. Protests concerning improprieties that do not exist in the initial solicitation, but that are subsequently incorporated into the solicitation, shall be filed by the next closing date for receipt of proposals following the incorporation. In cases other than those just covered, protests shall be filed no later than ten days after a contract is awarded in connection with the procurement action. Failure to timely protest shall be deemed a waiver of all rights. Third, and finally, your protest shall be in writing and shall include the following information: (1) The name, address, telephone number, and fax number of the protestor; (2) The signature of the protestor or its representative; (3) Identification of the solicitation or contract number; (4) A detailed statement of the legal and factual grounds of the protest including copies of relevant documents; and (5) The form of relief requested.

Protests should be directed to:

John F. Riley, C.P.M.
Executive Director of Purchasing and Business Services
Arizona State University
PO Box 875212
Tempe AZ 85287-5212
Fax: (480) 965-2234

Please note that as the University takes protests very seriously; we expect you to do so as well. Frivolous protests will not result in gain for your firm.

6. Green Specifications – Supplier Sustainability Questionnaire

SECTION IX – PRICING SCHEDULE

ASU will be contracting with providers/agencies in each county to deliver one of two versions of the New Beginnings Program: (a.) a two-session version, and (b.) a ten-session version. Interested agencies should specify in their proposal whether they are interested in providing the two-session or ten-session program, or both. Interested parties should submit separate cost estimates to deliver each version they are interested in competing for.

ASU will provide the materials necessary to run the groups which will include: leader manuals, session DVDs and parent workbooks. ASU will also cover reasonable travel expenses for group leaders to travel to Tempe, AZ for training on delivering the New Beginnings Program.

Agency proposals should cover the following costs and materials:

- Wages for group leaders for the following activities
 - Upfront training in Tempe (3 days for 10 session version, 1 day for 2 session version)
 - 4 hours to complete online CITI Human Subject Training
 - Weekly hours to prepare for the program, deliver the program and enter data
 - Estimated to be 8 to 10 hours the first time that a leader delivers the program. Once a leader has completed the program they can be credentialed to lead the NBP. After credentialing, the estimated weekly time is estimated to be 5 hours.
- Group supplies (e.g. snacks and drinks for participants)
- Wages and supplies to provide child care for children during the time that parents are in the group (2 hours per week)

Agency must have the following equipment available to deliver the program: television (minimum of 25 inch screen) and DVD player, computers with high speed internet access and a webcam.

The above referenced number of hours involved in delivering the New Beginnings Program is based on our current estimates. The agency's proposal should use these time estimates to calculate a cost for delivering the program. The agency's proposal may also include an hourly wage for group leaders that would be used to calculate any additional time spent preparing to deliver the program if these estimates prove to be too low.

*It is expected that costs will be all-inclusive and will not include overhead or indirect costs. Please list all costs in a separate Excel spreadsheet.

An invoice shall be submitted directly to the University's Payables and Reimbursements Department, unless otherwise directed. Any delays in payment are usually attributable to one of the following: failure of the supplier to submit an invoice to Payables and Reimbursements, dissatisfaction of the requesting department with the order delivered by the supplier, and a variance of the dollar amounts on the purchase order, the receiver, and the invoice. The interest rate on overdue payments is eighteen (18) percent APR. Such interest will begin accruing on the thirty-first (31st) day after the latest date of: the date of a valid purchase order, the date a correct supplier invoice is received at Payables and Reimbursements, and the date of delivery of an order that is satisfactory to the requesting department. Any claims for interest must be substantiated by copies of documents that show the date of the valid purchase order, the date a correct invoice was delivered to Payables and Reimbursements, and the date an order was delivered to the requesting department. The University may adjust the interest period, or deny the interest claim, based upon their documentation that there was no valid purchase order, that an incorrect invoice was submitted, that the order delivered was not satisfactory, or that the dates of any event were other than as claimed.
