What is Generation Next?

BEGINNINGS

The ASU Lodestar Center is committed to building the capacity of those who lead, manage and support nonprofit organizations. Recognizing the sector's looming leadership void, the Generation Next Nonprofit Leadership Academy was created specifically to target emerging leaders in the sector and provide them with a comprehensive experience to gain the knowledge and tools needed to take on leadership roles within the nonprofit community.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Generation Next provides the opportunity for a new leader to join a cohort of individuals, in order to develop knowledge and acquire tools to qualify for higher-level positions at their respective nonprofit organizations. The monthly leadership development workshop and engagement series is offered across a 9-month program. Generation Next members will learn best-practice approaches to leading and managing nonprofits, from renowned professors and practitioner-instructors at ASU and from other institutions that engage with the ASU Lodestar Center.

WHO SHOULD APPLY

The ASU Lodestar Center encourages any emerging nonprofit leaders to apply to Generation Next. Ideal candidates should meet these qualifications:

- Potential to advance to a leadership position in a nonprofit organization
- Nonprofit sector work experience
- Unique perspectives about issues facing the nonprofit sector
- Desire to commit time and talent helping nonprofits become world-class institutions

PARTICIPANT COMMITMENT

This program requires a significant amount of time and commitment in order to get the full benefit of the experience. Many of the Valley's top businesses and community leaders present at Gen Next program days, so failing to attend even one class is a significant missed opportunity. Another great benefit of the class experience is getting to know your fellow class members and learning from each other.

Therefore, participants must attend all 9 program days to graduate. Only emergency situations will be considered for an excused absence. While the program agendas will allow for short breaks, participants should expect to be largely unavailable on class days. Applicants are strongly encouraged to give serious thought to this time commitment and to discuss it with their direct supervisor and Executive Director. Those who are unable to commit to being fully available and present at all program days should apply another year when their schedules are more accommodating.

Mandatory participation includes:

- Orientation - Thursday, August 12, 2010 (5 – 7 p.m.)
- Program Day 1 - August 20, 2010
- Program Day 2 - September 10, 2010
- Program Day 3 - October 8, 2010
- Program Day 4 - November 12, 2010
- Program Day 5 - December 10, 2010
- Program Day 6 - January 14, 2011
- Program Day 7 - February 11, 2011
- Program Day 8 - March 11, 2011
- Program Day 9 - April 8, 2011
- Presentations and Graduation - May 13, 2011
- Group Project (estimated time commitment 20 - 30 hours)

COST

The Generation Next program fee of $695 covers all program costs including meals and program materials. This fee may be paid all or in part by your employer. Monthly payment plans are available for those requesting them.

The ASU Lodestar Center is also pleased to offer a limited number of partial scholarships that will be awarded for Generation Next. The purpose of the scholarships is to afford access to this leadership opportunity to nonprofit and community leaders who otherwise would not be able to attend. The scholarship award will cover all but $200 of the total cost. If interested in applying for a partial scholarship, please submit a Letter of Interest with your application. Your letter should indicate what it would mean to you and your organization to participate in Generation Next, and how you plan to use the information and knowledge gained through the program in your organization.
